"All THE WORLD'S A STAGE"

FOREWORD ...

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players; they have their exits and their entrances; and one man in his time plays many parts.."

-Shakespeare

With these immortal words of Shakespeare in mind, the Renocahi staff has endeavored to present to the patrons, to the faculty, and to the students of Reidsville High School a yearbook which truly represents the stage on which the students have enacted their roles in . . . . . .

TREASURE CHEST

While rummaging through an old treasure chest belonging to the Class of 1959, I found various articles that brought back fond memories of our years at Reidsville High School. A few of these priceless treasures are named below:

First of all, here is a rather shabby golden lion's tail that belonged to Beth Coleman. It has swished through many ball games.

Here we have a typewriter that must date back to the Middle Ages. It has to be the one Howell Lee Busick used in typing class.

Jerry Cole's PLAIN ENGLISH HANDBOOK is among the old relics. It is quite worn out, but not from intensive study, I am sure.

What have we here? It is a stack of well-read letters bearing stamps from Germany. Of course, they must belong to Betty Bailey.

Next is a broken flag pole. It looks as if Stephanie Woodson and Helen Roberts, our color guards, put it here to hide it from Mr. Moore.

How did this old dilapidated French book get here? It must have belonged to that great French scholar, Phil Williams.

Why, of all things! Here is a car fender. It is probably one of the many that Wayne Atwater picked up quite by accident.

Harold Dunevant's drum major baton is lying beside the car fender. The baton is just a little bent. After all, he has been using it for two years to keep the band in line.

My goodness, here is a sailor hat! More than likely it is the one Gayle Gardner stole from a navy man.

What's this? A picture of Harriet Milner alone? It must have been taken a long time ago. Nowadays, she has a constant male companion.

Here is a stack of English vocabulary cards. Judging by the scribbly handwriting and strange definitions, I would say they once belonged to Bob Burts.

This old test tube belonged to Pam Apple and John Crutchfield. They probably worked out some wonderful formulas in chemistry class. However, I doubt if very many of them pertained to chemistry.

What is this doing here? It is just a plain ordinary rock. No, it is not a rock; it is a biscuit baked by Barbara O'Bryant in Home Ec. Class.

Why, here is a pair of identical bandages. They must have belonged to Tommy Childrey and Jerry Jarrell. It seems they bumped heads to see who had the harder - Tommy won.

Daniel Shelton's trombone slide is in here. Clark Turner probably stole it from him because it always seemed to find lodging in the back of Clark's head during band rehearsals.

A throat spray is here, too. Thomas Gunn used it to help keep his singing voice in good condition.

Here is a complete wedding guide. It probably belongs to either Peggy Stewart or Francine Humphrey.

The gavel Gerald Watkins used in Student Council is here near the bottom. I have heard he used it very effectively by planting it on the heads of rowdy Council members.

There are many more interesting articles in our treasure chest, but I do not have the time nor the space to name any more. Some day, maybe, I can show them to you.

CLASS PROPHECY

Reidsville's huge new train depot is quite crowded on this very important day. It is June 1, 1969, and the class of '59 has gathered here to welcome home one of its classmates.

The trains are very crowded with the members of the class. Ah, who is that at Track 7? It is none other than Brenda Yount. She and her husband now own several huge cattle ranches out in Texas. Several other out-of-town members have just arrived. I see that Pamela Apple completed her piano concert in time to join us. Thomas Gunn, a minister of music, is now approaching Pam. I suppose they will talk of their days in the Glee Club. There's Jackie Bennett, who is making quiet a name for herself in the modeling world, although everyone always said she was too short.

And, here comes Judy Matkins with her fifth husband; she always said she'd be a lone crusader against all vile things - men. Do you suppose she'll ever succeed with her crusade? The class of '59 even gave us one matador - that handsome Gene Smith. The music you hear in the background is rendered by Harold Dunevant and His Golden Notes. My, who is the handsome man stepping off the train with Betsy Young? She seems to have done quite well for herself as a psychologist at the Youth Guidance Center in New York.

Many of our boys have made careers of the Armed Forces. Claude Davis has attained much success in the Navy. Tommy Childrey is a jet mechanic in the U. S. Air Force and Jerry Jarrell is still pushing toward the top with this branch, too. Marvin Strickland, a general, has done exceptionally well in the Air Force. Doesn't Richard Jones look handsome in his Marine dress uniform?

The girls who were wearing one ring in '59 are now wearing two. They are Ianthia Atkins, Peggy Stewart, Phyllis Branch, Glenna Saunders, Carolyn Barker, Glenna Chapmon, Linda Freeman, and Lois Martin. They are proudly boasting about their husbands, homes, and children. Above them all I can hear Brenda Saunders boasting about being Pee Wee's sole employee.

Secretaries were quite plentiful in our class. Marie Allen, Peggy Meyer, Sally E. Brent, Virginia McCollum, Martha Brim, Peggy Joyce, Linda Combs, Joy Sue Joines, Shirley Durham, Sylvia James, Barbara Frye, Francine Humphrey, Pat Fulp, Rachel and Betty Green, Betty Nichols, Vivian Strickland, Camellia Olesen, Pat "Dinky" Welch, Pamela Poteat, Carolyn Rentz, and Mary Huskey are our secretaries. Also in the business world we find Annette Barker, Mike Winstead, Dave Kemp, Charlesana and Mary Glenn Briggs.

CLASS PROPHECY

Our class is also represented by a fine group of nurses. They are: Ann Apple, Florence Stone, Gayle Gardner, Lois McKinney, Peggy Jane Pritchett, and Carolyn McCollum. Reidsville gained one doctor, Gary Dent, from our class.

Many of our class members have rejoined the school system, this time as teachers. In the elementary school we find Lettie Branscome, Phil Williams, Leatrice Overby, Patsy Griffin, Beth Coleman, Ethel Ann Childrey, Betty Bailey, and Harriet Milner. Several of our classmates have filled positions at the high school. At Miss Wootton's desk we find Winston Haythe with his English handbook. Linda Lester, the French "quiz kid," has taken Miss Frazier's place. In the Home Economics Department we find Barbara O'Bryant, and in the gym we find Helen Roberts giving the girls a "pep" talk and Pat Temple teaching the boys a new shot. Who's that principal? Why, that's Betty Brooks, the first woman principal at Reidsville High School talking to Harold Dunevant, band director.

Five of our boys have made fine engineers. Bobby Bray is recognized for his engineering ability and it has been said that Billy Stanley is making $80,000.00 a year. Jimmy Gilbert, Jimmy Cox, and Benny Roberson have all done well in the field of nuclear engineering. Howell Busick, a lawyer, is busy campaigning for judge and Gerald Watkins, another lawyer, is running for senator. Loretta Canady and Mary Cliborne are talking "the good old days" over with Betty Jo Carter, a bookkeeper for Carter-Somers Radiator Shop. Loretta and Mary are the head beauticians at Mary Linda Somers' modern "Look-Beautiful" Beauty Salon. Betty Jo is commending Mary on the permanent that she gave Jean Graves, a local social worker.

Charles Stanfield and Harold Cobb, forest rangers, have come "down out of the hills" to join us today. Why, there are our "grease monkeys". Charles Corum owns a local mechanic shop; Ronnie Jones is a mechanic for race car drivers and Wayne Pegram is a diesel mechanic. I see that Jimmy Gibbs is trying to sell some of his advertising to his classmates. He's trying to interest Clark Turner, the manager of Turner's Sportswear. Wayne Wall is trying to sell Stephanie Woodson, buyer for the store, a new ivy league pants for boys.

Allen Gunn, the president of the Reidsville Plastics Company, is discussing the growth of Reidsville with Ann Jones, manager of Link Brothers Pharmacy and Jesse "Chip" McKinney, the head pharmacist. James Wagoner, a research scientist, and Wayne Atwater, a chemist at the plastics company, are trying to get into the conversation. Jimmy Joyce, the head santitarian of the Reidsville Health Department, is coming down the street with Highway Patrolman Richard Lester and Patrolman Daniel Shelton. Behind them are Ellis O'Bryant, a dairy farmer, and Jerry Stewart, an electrician. They are going to join Gordon McKinney, president of Western Electric, and Bill Wray, an architect, who are discussing the plans for the new Western Electric. Here come two guys that have really been lucky. Jerry Cole's wealthy uncle died leaving Jerry an enormous fortune. He is now enjoying life to the fullest. With him is John Crutchfield; he seems to have done quite well as a professional bum. He's the best-dressed bum I have seen in a long time.

What's all the excitement? Our guest of honor has finally arrived. Bob Burts is now stepping from the train. Will he ever be able to get off with all the crowds pushing him? Bob has attained his one desire to be a successful lover. His career as an actor gave him this and much more.

I am going to join the crowds. Won't you go with me?

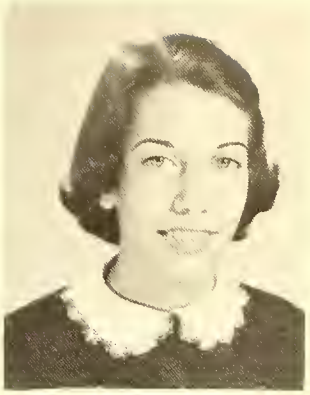
LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT



Briggs

State of North Carolina
County of Rockingham
City of Reidsville

We, the class of 1959 of Reidsville High School, of the aforesaid county and state, being of sound minds and knowing that our days of residence at this institution of learning are numbered, have with one common consent, purpose, and mind, agreed that the following instrument be executed and recorded as our Last Will and Testament.

With diplomas in our hands, tears in our eyes, and peace in our hearts, soon we shall go forth from these scenes of our school days, never to return. Appreciating the fine meaning of Senior dignity and the value of our various possessions, and in consideration of all these things, we wish to dispose of our property.

Article I

Sec. 1. We extend our deepest appreciation to the entire staff for its help and guidance.

Sec. 2. We wish to thank Miss Conley for making the publication of this annual possible.

Sec. 3. To the entire student body we leave the good times we had at Reidsville High School with the hope that they will enjoy their "senior year" as much as we did.

Article II

Sec. 1. Bill Wray and Ann Jones bestow their flirting ability to Dick Wray and Forrest Loftis.

Sec. 2. Upon Danny Rudd, Wayne Wall leaves his love for the band.

Sec. 3. Linda Combs wills her love for the cheering squad to anyone who will enjoy it as much as she did.

Sec. 4. Rachel Greene, Jerry Jarrell, Ianthia Adkins, Jean Graves, and Phyllis Branch leave their seats in Miss Maus's English class to Ann Huskey, Robert Montgomery, Neal Palmer, and Carol Chilton.

Sec. 5. Billy Stanley leaves his love for the Senior Dramatics Club to anyone who will enjoy it as much as he did.

Sec. 6. Ethel Ann Childrey, Betty Brooks, and Camellia Olesen will their slightly used algebra books to Bobby Coleman and Wilbur Farling.

Sec. 7. Upon Sandra Groff, Martha Brim wills her love for majorettes.

Sec. 8. Thomas Gunn leaves his love for music to anyone who wants it.

Sec. 9. Betty Jo Carter wills her parking place to Jerry and Ray to fight over.

Sec. 10. To Paul Briggs, Charlesana Briggs wills her love for typing.

Sec. 11. Jimmy Gilbert leaves his parking place beside the gym to anyone who can get there first.

Sec. 12. Gary Dent, Marvin Strickland, and Peggy Stewart bequeath their school buses to anyone crazy enough to drive them.

Sec. 13. Lois Sebastian leaves her biology book to whoever can understand it.

Sec. 14. Charles Corum wills his ability in French to anyone who wants to fail.

Sec. 15. Mary Glenn Briggs wills her half of locker 228 to Louise Henson.

Sec. 16. To Linda Fulp, Patricia Fulp bestows her quietness.

Sec. 17. Ronnie Jones and Harold Cobb leave their seats in French class to Frankie Shreve and Jerry Cobb.

Sec. 18. Jimmy Gibbs wills his love of algebra and Helen Roberts leaves her warm spot on the basketball bench to Rebecca Evans.

Sec. 19. Peggy Joyce and Gordon McKinney leave their ability to day dream to anyone with the same interest.

Sec. 20. Shirley Durham, Betty Nichols, and Betty Greene leave their shorthand books to Agatha Jarrell, Shirley Paschal, and Linda Stanley.

Sec. 21. Glenna Chapmon bestows her love of lunch period to Hester Chapmon and Linda Grogan.

Sec. 22. Patsy Griffin wills her car to Brenda Roberts with the hope that she can drive it.

Sec. 23. Dave Kemp leaves his good looks to anyone as ugly as he is.

Sec. 24. Loretta Canady wills her seat on bus 109 to Betty Knowles.

Sec. 25. To David Small, Robert Burts leaves his shotgun.

Sec. 26. Carolyn McCollum wills her shabby locker to her brother Junior.

Sec. 27. Allen Gunn wills his notebook to Reid Marsh.

Sec. 28. Stephanie Woodson leaves her third of locker 208 to Tommy Balsley.

Sec. 29. Jerry Cole leaves his inability to play right half-back to Ernest Lynn.

Sec. 30. To Barbara Brown, Dinky Welch wills her love for talking.

Sec. 31. Brenda Yount wills her teacher in chemistry to Libby Yount.

Sec. 32. Jesse McKinney leaves his experience at changing tires to Phillip Brooks and Darrell Myrick.

Sec. 33. To Mary Alice Teague, Betsy Young leaves her last name.

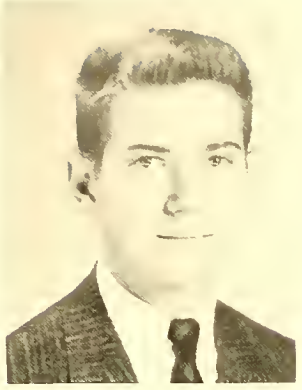
Sec. 34. Charles Stanfield wills his ability to read Ivanhoe to Connie Tysinger.

Sec. 35. Peggy Meyer leaves her dimple to Brenda Lamb.

Sec. 36. Richard Jones wills his druming ability to Starling Gunn.

Sec. 37. Harriet Milner leaves Charles Horton at Reidsville High School, but hands off girls!

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT



Turner

Sec. 38. Virginia McCollum wills her appreciation to Frances Garrett for letting her share her locker.

Sec. 39. Pamela Apple wills her love for football and cheering to Pat Collie and Judy Williams.

Sec. 40. John Wayne O'Bryant leaves his love for basketball to anyone who likes it as much as he does.

Sec. 41. James Wagoner wills the equipment he used in the chemistry lab to anyone who can put it together.

Graduation At Last!

"Sayonara"

GARDNER

The halls are dark and silent;
No footsteps falling there.
No lockers filled with well-worn books;
No student's mind with care.

The empty desks stand row by row
Waiting, waiting 'till
Someone will come to take the place
That '59 did fill.

The teachers put their books away
To take a well-earned rest
While we go out to face the world,
To strive to do our best.

We've learned much more than text books,
--With friends, to laugh and cry.
Do not forget these golden years
We've spent at Reidsville High!

Gayle Gardner

EDITOR'S NOTE

Before leaving Reidsville High School, we would like to express our sincere appreciation to Miss Kate Conley for the many hours she has worked in order to make the 1959 Renocahi possible. We would also like to thank all others who contributed their time and talents to help us make this volume a reality.

We hope that this issue of Renocahi has recorded the most pleasant memories of your school year. We wish many good times and much success to all the future graduates of R.H.S.

So long . . . . . .

The Renocahi Staff
